

7 THINGS YOU MUST DO THIS MONTH

ALL THAT JAZZ

From "Court TV" to "Celebrity Justice," America is obsessed with high-profile criminal cases. It was no different back in the jazz era—as we see in the musical Chicago, playing at the Fox April 13-15. Scandal, singing cellmates and show business collide in this six-time Tony Award-winning play about chorus girl and celeb wanna-be Roxie Hart's murder trial and her desperate schemes to make front page news. Tickets on sale at metrotix.com or 314.534.1111 (527 N. Grand Blvd., Grand Center).

KAREEMA OF THE CROP

Sold at Henri Bendel and Searle in NYC, the Kareema fragrance line comes to St. Louis on April 20 and 21. Stop by Mezzanine between 11 am and 4 pm, experience the line's new Abinoam collection and make your own perfume oils at the fragrance bar (Central West End, 361.3777).

2

THINK PINK

Part of Lancome's Le Rouge Absolu lipstick line, "Proenza Pink"—the same shade seen on the models at Proenza Schouler's Spring 2007 fashion show—is now available at Neiman Marcus. Priced at just $25, it's the perfect way to get a runway look without breaking the bank (Plaza Frontenac, Frontenac, 314.567.9811).

VENUS ENVY

Celebrate girl power at one of the biggest local art shows of the year. Venus Envy Art Festival—presented by Venus Envy, a female-run not-for-profit organization that works to promote female artists via educational youth programs and community awareness—is a weekend-long event showcasing the works of local female artists. This juried art exhibition, held at the Locust Business District April 13-14 from 7pm-12am, will include works by 50 visual artists and a handful of performances ranging from belly dancing to burlesque. Visit venusenvy.org for more info.

GET CARDED

Because you're a sucker for style and our World Series champs, stop by Laurie Solet to catch one of Dogeared's "Make a Wish" necklaces. Worn by celebs such as Mischa Barton, the "Livin' the Dream" design is dedicated to the Cardinals. Wish for a successful season and when your necklace falls off, watch it come true (8228 Forsyth Blvd., Clayton, 314.727.7467).

4

THE GIRLIE SHOW

Get all dolled up at Masulla on April 5, when Alice Dobson's Sofada (Portuguese for "naughty") line makes its way to the new Washington Avenue boutique for a trunk show. Stock up on sweet, sexy, femme frocks by the "Best Debut Designer" at New York's Fashion Week (Fall 2006) (314.249.3558).

6

AN ARTISTIC AFFAIR

Have a ball at the fourth annual Wall Ball, a one-of-a-kind artistic adventure to benefit SCOSAG (South City Open Studio and Gallery for Children)—an organization that provides parents and children with art resources and an incredible outdoor environment in Tower Grove Park—on April 7 at the Third Degree Glass Factory. Indulge in mouth-watering appetizers from twenty local restaurants including Atomic Cowboy and Terrene while helping 50 local painters, sculptors, ceramicists, jewelers and even hair stylists create masterpieces that will be auctioned off later in the evening. For ticket info visit scosag.org or call 314.865.0060 (5200 Delmar Blvd., The Loop).
